

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
TYLER DIVISION

PATENT GROUP, LLC,

Respondent

vs.

WOODSTREAM CORPORATION,

Defendant.

§
§
§
§
§
§
§
§
§

NO. 6:10-CV-346-LED

SECOND AMENDED QUI TAM COMPLAINT FOR FALSE MARKING

Relator Patent Group, LLC (“Relator”), for its Second Amended Complaint against Defendant Woodstream Corporation (“Defendant”) alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

This is a lawsuit brought under the private attorney general provisions of the patent laws for recovery under Section 292, Title 35 of the United States Code, for penalties payable to the United States for falsely marked products as covered by United States Patents with the intent to deceive others. Defendant has falsely marked its bird feeders and ribbed tube insulators as protected by patents that are not in force and do not cover the bird feeders and ribbed tube insulators. Defendant has done so with the intent to deceive others and deter them from competing or purchasing competitive products.

A patent monopoly is a powerful exception to the principles of full and fair competition that protect markets, consumers, and competitors upon which the United States economy is based. The patent laws are a complex regulatory scheme, that conflict with antitrust and other laws, which must be balanced to protect the public. As with the antitrust laws, the United States has created a private attorney general system for the detection and enforcement of abuses of parts of the patent laws. Here, Section 292 of the patent laws allows a litigant acting as a private attorney general to sue in qui tam for false marking of a product, with one half of the recovery going to the United States. As a practical matter, the United States has little ability to otherwise police false marking and must rely on private litigant enforcement.

For simple devices or products, often times patents on specific features are the primary or main bar to new competition. Here Defendant has engaged in a pattern and practice of advertising bird feeders and ribbed tube insulators with expired patents in violation of Section 292 of Title 35 of the United States Code. Defendant proudly boasts in advertising brochures and its packaging that its bird feeder and ribbed tube insulator products are patented suggesting that the products so marked are not available from others and/or similar products are an infringement of its patents. Yet at least two patents marked on significant products are not in force and are falsely marked in violation of Title 35, Section 292 of the United States Code.

THE PARTIES

1. Relator is a limited liability company organized and existing under the laws of the State of Texas.

2. Defendant Woodstream Corporation is a Pennsylvania corporation who can be served through its registered agent CT Corporation Systems at 1515 Market Street, Suite 1210, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19102.

NATURE OF THE ACTION

3. This is an action for false marking arising under 35 U.S.C. § 292 of the patent laws of the United States.

4. Relator has standing to bring this action under Article III of the United States Constitution and 35 U.S.C. § 292. Under the terms of the statute, “any person” may bring an action for its enforcement. Furthermore, Relator has suffered harm, both individually and as a member of the public. As a member of the public, Relator has suffered the deleterious economic effects caused by Defendant's conduct which deceives the public and inhibits competition in the marketplace. As an individual, Relator suffered direct economic harm when it purchased Defendant's falsely marked products at artificially inflated prices. In other words, Defendant's conduct caused Relator to pay more than it should have for Defendant's products.

5. As set forth in detail below, Defendant has violated 35 U.S.C. § 292 (a) by falsely marking and advertising, or causing or contributing to the false marking and advertising of products that list expired patent numbers or claim to be patented.

6. The expiration date of a U.S. Patent is not readily ascertainable by members of the public at the time of the product purchase. The patent number itself does not provide members of the public with the expiration date of the patent. Basic information about a patent, such as the filing, issue and priority dates associated with a particular U.S. patent number are available at, for example, the website of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO"). However, access to the Internet is necessary to retrieve that information (meaning that a consumer may not have the ability to retrieve the information, especially while he is in a store making a purchasing decision) and even after retrieving that information, it does not include the expiration date of a patent. Rather, a member of the public must also conduct a burdensome legal analysis, requiring specific knowledge of U.S. Patent laws regarding patent term expiration. Notably, a correct calculation of the expiration date must also account for at least: a) any term extensions granted by the USPTO, which may or may not be present on the face of the patent, and b) whether or not the patent owner has paid the necessary maintenance fees.

7. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that the products identified below were properly marked. Thus, the false marking was done with the intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patents and inhibiting competition.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Relator's false marking claims under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a).

9. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant by virtue of, inter alia, Defendant's persistent and continuous contacts with the Eastern District of Texas, including active and regular conduct of business during the relevant time period through its sales in Tyler, Texas.

10. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because, inter alia, Defendant has violated 35 U.S.C. § 292, and falsely marked, advertised, distributed and sold products in the Eastern District of Texas. Further, on information and belief, Defendant has sold falsely marked bird feeders and ribbed tube insulators in competition with sellers of competitive products in the Eastern District of Texas. Upon information and belief, such sales by Defendant are substantial, continuous and systematic.

11. Venue is proper in this District under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) and (c) and 1395(a).

COUNT I - U.S. PATENT NO. 4,646,686 - EXPIRED PATENT

12. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

13. U.S. Patent No. 4,646,686 ("the '686 patent"), entitled "Selective Bird Feeder" issued on March 3, 1987.

14. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the '686 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Perky-Pet Brand No. 3362, Squirrel-Be-Gone, depicted at Exhibit "A."

15. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the '686 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 14.

16. The '686 patent is an expired patent.

17. Upon information and belief, the '686 patent expired on August 5, 2005.

18. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

19. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the '686 patent would expire on August 5, 2005.

20. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the '686 patent expired on August 5, 2005.

21. Defendant does not own or have a license to the '686 patent and is not paying maintenance fees to the United States Patent and Trademark Office to maintain the '686 patent.

22. Upon information and belief, Defendant knew or should have known that the '686 patent had already expired at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '686 patent, including the products identified in Paragraph 14.

23. Defendant knew it did not own or have a license to the '686 patent at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '686 patent, including the production identified in Paragraph 14.

24. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '686 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 14, or any products whatsoever.

25. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

26. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '686 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

27. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described bird feeders in the marketplace.

28. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

29. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

COUNT II - U.S. PATENT NO. 4,580,767 - EXPIRED PATENT

30. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

31. U.S. Patent No. 4,580,767 ("the '767 patent"), entitled "Electric Fence Including a Ribbed Tubular Sleeve Insulator" issued on April 8, 1986.

32. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the '767 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Fi-Shock™ 4" Ribbed Tube Insulators, Model 500-540, depicted at Exhibit "B."

33. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the '767 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 32.

34. The '767 patent is an expired patent.

35. Upon information and belief, the '767 patent expired on December 31, 2004.

36. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

37. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the '767 patent would expire on December 31, 2004.

38. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the '767 patent expired on December 31, 2004.

39. Defendant does not own or have a license to the '767 patent and is not paying maintenance fees to the United States Patent and Trademark Office to maintain the '767 patent.

40. Upon information and belief, Defendant knew or should have known that the '767 patent had already expired at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '767 patent, including the products identified in Paragraph 32.

41. Defendant knew it did not own or have a license to the '767 patent at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '767 patent, including the production identified in Paragraph 32.

42. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '767 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 32, or any products whatsoever.

43. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

44. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '767 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

45. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described ribbed tube insulators in the marketplace.

46. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

47. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

COUNT III - U.S. PATENT NO. 5,104,900 - EXPIRED PATENT

48. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

49. U.S. Patent No. 5,104,900 ("the '900 patent"), entitled "Naphthalene Based Snake Repellent" issued on April 14, 1992.

50. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the '900 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Snake A Way snake repellent, depicted at Exhibit "C."

51. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the '900 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 50.

52. The '900 patent is an expired patent.

53. Upon information and belief, the '900 patent expired on February 28, 2010.

54. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

55. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the '900 patent would expire on February 28, 2010.

56. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the '900 patent expired on February 28, 2010.

57. Defendant does not own or have a license to the '900 patent and is not paying maintenance fees to the United States Patent and Trademark Office to maintain the '900 patent.

58. Upon information and belief, Defendant knew or should have known that the '900 patent had already expired at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '900 patent, including the products identified in Paragraph 50.

59. Defendant knew it did not own or have a license to the '900 patent at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '900 patent, including the production identified in Paragraph 50

60. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '900 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 50 or any products whatsoever.

61. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

62. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '900 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

63. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described snake repellent in the marketplace.

64. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

65. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

COUNT IV - U.S. PATENT NO. 4,245,423 - EXPIRED PATENT

66. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

67. U.S. Patent No. 4,245,423 ("the '423 patent"), entitled "Animal Trap" issued on January 20, 1981.

68. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the '423 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Mouse Snap Trap animal trap depicted at Exhibit "D."

69. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the '423 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 68.

70. The '423 patent is an expired patent.

71. Upon information and belief, the '423 patent expired on December 1, 1998.

72. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

73. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the '423 patent would expire on December 1, 1998.

74. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the '423 patent expired on December 1, 1998.

75. Upon information and belief, Defendant knew or should have known that the '423 patent had already expired at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '423 patent, including the products identified in Paragraph 68.

76. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '423 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 68 or any products whatsoever.

77. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

78. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '423 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

79. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described animal trap in the marketplace.

80. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

81. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

COUNT V - U.S. PATENT NO. D300,163 - EXPIRED PATENT

82. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

83. U.S. Patent No. D300,163 ("the '163 patent"), entitled "Bait Pedal for a Mouse or Rat Trap" issued on March 7, 1989.

84. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the '163 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Mouse Snap Trap animal trap depicted at Exhibit "E."

85. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the '163 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 85.

86. The '163 patent is an expired patent.

87. Upon information and belief, the '163 patent expired on March 7, 2003.

88. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

89. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the '163 patent would expire on March 7, 2003.

90. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the '163 patent expired on March 7, 2003.

91. Defendant does not own or have a license to the '163 patent and is not paying maintenance fees to the United States Patent and Trademark Office to maintain the '163 patent.

92. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '163 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 85 or any products whatsoever.

93. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

94. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '163 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

95. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described animal trap in the marketplace.

96. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

97. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

COUNT VI - U.S. PATENT NO. 5,093,124 - EXPIRED PATENT

98. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

99. U.S. Patent No. 5,093,124 (“the ‘124 patent”), entitled “Fatty Acid-Based Pesticide With Reduced Phytotoxicity” issued on March 3, 1992.

100. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the ‘124 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Safer Brand 3-in-1 garden spray, depicted at Exhibit “F.”

101. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the ‘124 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 102.

102. The ‘124 patent is an expired patent.

103. Upon information and belief, the ‘124 patent expired on November 20, 2009.

104. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

105. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the ‘124 patent would expire on November 20, 2009.

106. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the ‘124 patent expired on November 20, 2009.

107. Defendant does not own or have a license to the ‘124 patent and is not paying maintenance fees to the United States Patent and Trademark Office to maintain the ‘124 patent.

108. Upon information and belief, Defendant knew or should have known that the ‘124

patent had already expired at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '900 patent, including the products identified in Paragraph 102.

109. Defendant knew it did not own or have a license to the '124 patent at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '124 patent, including the production identified in Paragraph 102

110. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '124 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 102 or any products whatsoever.

111. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

112. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '124 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

113. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described garden spray in the marketplace.

114. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

115. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

COUNT VII - U.S. PATENT NO. 4,782,622 - EXPIRED PATENT

116. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

117. U.S. Patent No. 4,782,622 (“the ‘622 patent”), entitled “Trap-guard for Vermin Repellant Destruction” issued on November 8, 1988.

118. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the ‘622 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Perky-Pet AntGuard for Hummingbird Feeders bird feeder, depicted at Exhibit “G.”

119. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the ‘622 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 120.

120. The ‘622 patent is an expired patent.

121. Upon information and belief, the ‘622 patent expired on November 20, 2007.

122. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

123. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the ‘622 patent would expire on November 20, 2007.

124. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the ‘622 patent expired on November 20, 2007.

125. Defendant does not own or have a license to the ‘622 patent and is not paying maintenance fees to the United States Patent and Trademark Office to maintain the ‘622 patent.

126. Upon information and belief, Defendant knew or should have known that the ‘622

patent had already expired at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '622 patent, including the products identified in Paragraph 120.

127. Defendant knew it did not own or have a license to the '622 patent at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '622 patent, including the production identified in Paragraph 120

128. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '622 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 120 or any products whatsoever.

129. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

130. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '622 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

131. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described bird feeder in the marketplace.

132. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

133. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

COUNT VIII - U.S. PATENT NO. 4,890,416 - EXPIRED PATENT

134. For this Count, Relator repeats the allegations of Paragraphs 1-11.

135. U.S. Patent No. 4,890,416 (“the ‘416 patent”), entitled “Trap-Guard for Vermin Repellant Destruction” issued on January 2, 1990.

136. Defendant marks and advertises, and has marked and advertised, products with the ‘416 patent number, including, but not limited to, the Perky-Pet AntGuard for Hummingbird Feeders bird feeder, depicted at Exhibit “H.”

137. Defendant causes or contributes to the marking and advertising, of products with the ‘416 patent number, including, but not limited to, the products identified in paragraph 138.

138. The ‘416 patent is an expired patent.

139. Upon information and belief, the ‘416 patent expired on November 8, 2005.

140. Defendant is a sophisticated company and has many decades of experience applying for, obtaining, maintaining and litigating patents. Defendant also has extensive experience manufacturing products and either marking or not marking them with words or numbers indicating that such products are protected by patents or pending applications.

141. Upon information and belief, Defendant and/or its predecessors (including its patent counsel) received notice that the ‘416 patent would expire on November 8, 2005.

142. Defendant knew or should have known that the term of the ‘416 patent expired on November 8, 2005.

143. Defendant does not own or have a license to the ‘416 patent and is not paying maintenance fees to the United States Patent and Trademark Office to maintain the ‘416 patent.

144. Upon information and belief, Defendant knew or should have known that the ‘416 patent had already expired at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '900 patent, including the products identified in Paragraph 138.

145. Defendant knew it did not own or have a license to the '416 patent at the same time Defendant was marking and advertising products with the '416 patent, including the production identified in Paragraph 138

146. Defendant knows, or at least reasonably should know, that the '416 patent does not cover the products identified in Paragraph 138 or any products whatsoever.

147. Each offense of false marking caused by Defendant has and continues to deceive the public and deter competition to the financial benefit of Defendant.

148. Defendant could have no reasonable belief that it was proper to mark and advertise products with the expired '416 patent number, and the false marking was done with intent to deceive the public by, including, but not limited to, misusing its patent rights to extend the term of its patent and inhibiting competition.

149. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely benefited in at least maintaining its market share with respect to the herein described bird feeder in the marketplace.

150. For at least the reasons set forth herein, Defendant has wrongfully and illegally advertised patent rights which it does not possess, and, as a result, has likely caused the retail price of its products described herein to be inflated above normal market levels, and has caused Plaintiff, a consumer of Defendant's products, to pay this inflated price.

151. The public deception, and/or competitive harm caused by each of Defendant's false markings has and continues to harm the United States, including Relator, a representative of the public incurring the cost and time associated with this enforcement.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 292, Relator respectfully requests:

- A. A judgment that Defendant has falsely marked products in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 292;
- B. An accounting of the number, sales and revenue of any falsely marked articles not presented at trial;
- C. A judgment in favor of Relator that Defendant has falsely marked items in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 292(a)-(b) in the form of a civil fine of $500 per falsely marked article, or an alternative amount, as set by the Court, one-half of any such award to be paid to the United States;
- D. An Award of pre-judgment and post-judgment interest on any monetary award;
- E. An injunction prohibiting Defendant, and its officers, directors, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, licensees, successors, and assigns, and those in active concert or participation with any of them, from violating 35 U.S.C. § 292(a);
- F. An award of attorneys fees, costs, other expenses and an enhancement of damages and penalties; and
- G. All other just and equitable relief.

JURY DEMAND

Relator requests trial by jury on all appropriate issues.

Dated: October 14, 2010

Respectfully submitted,

KENT, GOOD, ANDERSON & BUSH, P.C.

Woodgate I, Suite 200

1121 E.S.E. Loop 323

Tyler, Texas 75701

(903) 579-7500 (Office)

(903) 581-3701 (Fax)

By: /s/ Ken W. Good

KEN W. GOOD

State Bar No. 08139200

ATTORNEYS FOR RELATOR

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I hereby certify that all counsel of record who have consented to electronic service are being served with a copy of this document via the Court's CM/ECF system per Local Rule CV-5(a)(3) on this 14th day of October 2010. Any other counsel of record will be served by first class U.S. mail on this same date.

/s/ Ken W. Good